PRECEDING CONGRESSES

1972	Amsterdam	1
1977	London	2
1982	Osaka	3
1987	Ljubljana	4

Dear colleagues,

We hope you will find these proceedings useful and interesting. They cover the main areas of phonetic science and are published in 4 volumes (1-4), followed in 5 by a supplementary volume (5) containing 8 papers.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The impetus for this congress was given by the Swedish Academy of Sciences, which has supported the congress since its inception in 1972. The congress is a joint venture of the Swedish Academy of Sciences and the Swedish Council for Research in the Humanities and Social Sciences (SocSci).

For the past few years the members of the Swedish Academy of Sciences have been working to improve the quality of the scientific work done in Sweden. Of these 594 (71%) were published in the journal Acta Universitatis Stockholmiensis, which is published by the Royal Academy of Sciences. These papers are published in the journal Acta Universitatis Stockholmiensis, which is published by the Royal Academy of Sciences.

On the next page we will find a list of the members of the Swedish Academy of Sciences who have been working to improve the quality of the scientific work done in Sweden. It is interesting to note that the members of the Swedish Academy of Sciences are not only scientists but also include members of the arts and letters.

And finally, we want to thank the members of the Swedish Academy of Sciences who have been working to improve the quality of the scientific work done in Sweden. Without them the congress would not have been possible.
